

I HAVE GOT, WHO HAS GOT

This is a game for students to practise food vocabulary (countable / uncountable nouns). Before playing the game, revise or pre-teach the vocabulary used in the activity.

Distribute the cards as evenly as possible to the pupils.

Whoever has the starting card reads it out, for example: Who has got some chicken?

The child with this card says:
I have got some chicken.
Who has got pears?

The game continues in this manner until the group reaches the end.

Preparation

1. Print out cards.
2. If you want, you can stick every printout onto the heavy paper.
3. Cut out the individual cards along the dashed lines.

You can laminate your cards for future use.

MATERIALS

a card set

Each card except the starting and the final card has an answer and a question.

The starting card has only a question.

The final card has only an answer.
