

When we want someone to do something, we begin the sentence with the verb.

Drink your milk!

Eat your pasta!

When we want someone not to do something, we begin the sentence with Don't (Do not) and then put the verb.

Don't cry!

Don't laugh!

SIT DOWN!

STAND UP!

DON'T OPEN IT!

OPEN YOUR EYES!

DON'T GO!

COME HERE!

DON'T TALK!
